

Redress Scheme Registration Page Privacy Notice

Purpose and scope

This website is to register your interest in Redress Church of England, the redress scheme for survivors of Church-related abuse, and receive updates and notifications about the scheme. It is not for applications to this scheme nor for any other purpose.

What data we process and why

As part of the redress scheme we, Kennedys, will collect and process your personal data. This data comes directly from what you have entered into this registration form. Personal data is information that relates to an identified or identifiable individual.

We will collect and process your contact details: name and email address.

We will ensure that we treat all personal information in accordance with data protection legislation, including the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA 2018). Data protection law states that the personal information that we hold about you must be:

- Processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner.
- Collected for specific purposes which we have explained to you, and will not be used in any other way which is incompatible with those purposes.
- Relevant to the purposes we have explained to you and limited to those purposes only.
- Accurate and kept up to date.

- Held only for as long as is necessary for the purposes that we have explained to you.
- Processed or held in a way that ensures security.

Legal basis for the processing

Our legal basis for processing your data under Art 6 of UKGDPR is:

(a) Consent: by completing the form you have given consent to the processing of your personal data for purposes listed above.

You have the right to withdraw consent to the processing of your personal data at any time by contacting us at dataprotection@kennedyslaw.com.

If you do withdraw your consent before we send out the notification, we will delete your registration form and will not provide you with any further updates regarding the redress scheme.

What else we may do with it or where will we share it?

There may be other circumstances in which we may lawfully share your data with third parties where, for example, we are required to do so by law, by court order, or to prevent fraud or other crimes. Where we are required to share your data we will do so in accordance with applicable data protection laws.

How long we keep your data

We will retain your personal data until the opening of the redress scheme.

Your rights

As your personal data is processed on the basis of consent, you have the right to:

- Withdraw consent to the processing of your personal data at any time.

In certain circumstances you have the right to:

- Access – request information about how your personal data is processed and to request a copy of that personal data.
- Object – request that your data is not processed for certain purposes.
- Erasure – request that your personal data is erased where one of the statutory grounds applies.
- Data portability – the right to obtain and reuse your personal data for your own purposes across different services in certain circumstances.
- Restrict processing – request that the processing of your personal data is restricted in certain circumstances – for example, where accuracy is contested.
- Rectification – request that any inaccuracies in your personal data are rectified without delay. Request that any incomplete personal data is completed, including by means of a supplementary statement.

How to contact us

If you have any questions about anything in this notice, or if you consider that your personal data has been misused or mishandled contact us at: dataprotection@kennedyslaw.com

Complaints

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner online at:

Data protection and personal information complaints tool | ICO,

or by phone on 0303 123 1113 (local rate).

Changes to this notice

We may modify or amend this privacy notice at our discretion at any time. When we make changes to this notice, we will amend the last modified date at the bottom of this page. Any modification or amendment to this privacy notice will be applied to you and your data as of that revision date.
